How to edit this file:

1. Fill in the information in [] brackets and complete the abstract (you may optionally put in a link to your own personal website in the URL box if you have one).
2. Also try to format the body of the text with some index keywords (e.g. calculus, algebra, statistics, finance, accounting) using the citation button at the top. These will be seen in the index page. Note that you may skip this step if your article is too short.
3. Spice some of your text up with bolding (ctrl+b), emphasis (ctrl+e), or underlining (ctrl+u).
4. Insert Math Objects with ctrl+m, or click math-mode and toggle-table buttons at the top and use the tools at the bottom.
5. For more help, use the User's Guide in the Help tab at the top.
6. You may erase this "how to edit" section when you are ready.
